

Raising Responsive Children

What People Are Saying

You're parenting bible study is amazing! It's in-depth and goes to the core of issues as opposed to superficially touching them. Most importantly, it's based on God's Word and His precepts...beginning with the foundation of knowing God. It's powerful and practical. Rosemary

As a mom, I can see clearly where I've messed up and where I'm messing up, but I am not in despair. This study has given me so much hope (even as a single mom) and I am learning how to be a confident parent. My confidence is being built up in God alone. Melisa

As this is my first Bible study, I was intimidated by the idea of reading and interpreting the Bible, and applying it to my own life. Just six weeks into the RRC Bible study I am experiencing joyful changes in my marriage and relationships with my three daughters, ages 8, 5 and 2. Judy's study enables even the most novice Bible reader to understand and integrate its important and poignant messages for mothers today. Amy

The encouraging thing is realizing that I've done more right than I knew. I was so grateful that this study brought that out. God's grace and mercy have enabled me (and my husband), to see our girls for who they really are. We are enjoying our teenager! Char

I took the study thinking I was going to be told the seven steps on how to be a wonderful parent! What an eye opener it has been. I have been encouraged by the wealth of scripture that has been incorporated. The scripture references have provided fresh insight for me personally, for my marriage as well as for my parenting. This study has so much depth. Tola

I think the study is a great reminder to all of us that no matter what our own experiences may have been growing up, we all have available to us a wonderful parenting role model in our Lord and Savior. Judy has woven her heartfelt and genuine love for God into an incredibly useful study. Laurie

The material RRC takes you through is a logical, well-grounded biblical approach to parenting. It stresses the need to understand God's love for us and His call to us as wives and moms before addressing the sought after "how-to's." The "how-to" sections are based on sound biblical teachings, not select affirmations of cultural norms. The material is full of wisdom, conviction and God's love. Cheryl

Just weeks ago I felt completely defeated by my three year old. I have been on my knees before the Lord praying for wisdom and direction in my parenting. RRC has helped me see that the changes need to take place in my heart before I can work on the hearts of my children. The first three weeks of this study have brought me back to a Christ-centered focus. I was definitely wrapped up in a battle that, apart from the working of the Holy Spirit in my heart, I would continue to lose. I actually feel like a weight has been lifted off of my shoulders. Patty

I came from a background where yelling and putting others down was okay. That was an ugly trait that continued in my marriage (some good Christian example to an unsaved husband, huh?) and parenting. Well, God is changing that! The last time that I yelled at anyone in my family was weeks ago. With God's continuing help, it will soon be years! Amy

What a blessing RRC has been to me...and ultimately to my family! Judy Rossi is engaging and "down to earth", meeting us right where our struggles live! She prompts in-depth study of God's Word while directly connecting His truths to our lives, focusing first on our relationship with God, then our husbands, then our children. Her teaching is clearly inspired by the Holy Spirit! Judy is passionate about the health of God's most precious institution - the family. Kim

I could go on and on about how much I loved RRC. It's changed my life and my family's. We are all looking for some kind of instruction manual to help us parent our children in this ever-demanding world. Judy Rossi's parenting class provides clarity on parenting the way the Lord parents us and offers that instruction manual -- the Bible.

There are so many books out there about parenting different kinds of children, but this study gets to the heart of the matter and shows us how to parent all of our unique children by providing a loving home and a supportive, nurturing environment. Robin

This study has not only opened my eyes to parenting, it has opened my heart. I have realized that the changes I need to make and adjustments to prepare my children for their growth in Christ come first from my personal development, change, and awareness, most importantly through my relationship with Christ. My relationship with Him is the most important tool that I possess to allow me to raise our children as a confident mother. Beth Anne

This study pointed me to look more closely at my relationship with my Heavenly Father as my parent. My eyes were opened to the way He sees me as an individual, cares for me, guides me, and disciplines me when necessary. It has helped me to embrace this perfect example and parent my children in this same manner. Melissa

Enhancing Your Marriage has changed our marriage from a good marriage to an incredible Godly marriage. Now I am once again blessed to watch God transform my relationship with my soon to be 18 year old daughter through RRC.

Judy Rossi's straightforward and practical study guides readers through what the Word says and then teaches how to apply it. Topics ranging from discovering your child's personality "bents" to spanking effectively are offered with thoroughly researched, Bible-based application. Not only does this study improve the reader as a parent, but as a child of God. I became reminded afresh about my influential role as a model of Jesus Christ in the home. No matter what type of parent you are when you start, you will discover how a prayerful commitment to this study can impact your children for God's glory. Leah

My own personal growth evolved and transformed my parenting. I would take the study again as my season of parenting continues to change. Ruth

The RRC Bible study has been a blessing. I am most impressed by the Bible verses and passages so carefully selected in the thorough study guide where God's Word and plans for my parenting are revealed.

I am developing an understanding of my past relationships and nurturing my current relationships with a new awareness. I wish that everyone I know was moved to allow God to work in their lives through this study. It is making a tremendous impact on my life. Suzanne M.

I love that it's not just a book about parenting with scripture in it or referred to! RRC takes the reader into the Bible to look up verse after verse that applies to parenting. Suzanne

The main focus of RRC is not the children and related techniques, advice, and practical tips, but the focus is on my relationship with God as the critical foundation for raising my children right. This is a much more profound revelation than learning one more trick to stay ahead of the race. Cordula
